- c. The Captains shall conduct the toss at least 15 minutes prior to the start of the game. In the event that captains are not present, then teams must nominate a deputy for this purpose. Once the toss is made, a decision should be made promptly by the winning captain and no later than 10 minutes before the start of play.
- d. In order for any team to be ready to take the field, a minimum of 7 players must be present at the ground prior to start of the game. Any team causing delay of more than 45 minutes shall forfeit the game. In such a case, the team forfeiting the game shall receive zero points and their opponent shall receive 6 points. This shall be strictly enforced at all times by the neutral umpire.
- e. One over per five minutes should be reduced for any kind of game time delay. This reduction should be split equally between both teams if the delay was not caused by any one team (Example: When splitting 45 minutes delay to both teams, five overs must be reduced to each team). Neutral umpires cannot make any excuses from applying this rule.

- g. Game started but not finished due to inclement weather shall be decided on by the following basis:
- h. If the second batting side does not complete 20 complete overs, the match will be considered a No-Result with 3 points awarded to each side.
- i. In the case of games started but not finished due to inclement weather, where the second side bats full 20 overs or more when the game is called off, then the game will be decided on the higher team score for the total number of completed overs played by the second batting side (e.g. if second batting side has completed 21 overs then number of runs scored by both teams at the end of 21 overs shall decide the result of the match).

- j. The decision to call off play shall be made by the Neutral Umpire. In the absence of an appointed Umpire, the decision will be made by the mutual consent of the two Captains.
- k. For each 5 minutes of rain one over will be deducted from the 80 over game divided between both teams. If the resultant overs are an odd number one more over will be deducted.
- l. In case of a tie in the division placing, head to head results are the decider. In case these are also equal, net run rate differential (total runs scored divided by total overs faced minus total runs conceded divided by total overs bowled) is the decider (Completed matches only). In case these are equal, there will be a toss of a coin.

RULE IX WIDES AND NO-BALLS

If 2 BEAMERS are bowled by the same bowler in the match then the bowler should not be allowed to bowl any more in the match. The over should be continued by another bowler if it was not completed before the bowler was suspended from bowling. In such cases the Neutral Umpire shall have the authority to over-rule the leg umpire's decision. All the applicable rules of play for "No Ball" shall apply in such cases.
- e. A full toss from a spinner or slow bowler, passing the batsman above waist height, (when standing in normal position at the crease) is NOT a "No Ball". However a full toss from the same bowler passing the batsman above shoulder height, (when standing in normal position at the crease) shall be declared “No Ball” by either Umpire.

- f. If the Bowler bowls the ball such that it passes the batsman, when standing in normal position at the crease on the outside of a clearly marked line 30” outside the off stump, the Umpire shall call and signal, “Wide Ball” as soon as the ball is dead. If the ball shall pass on the leg side of the wicket and behind the batsman, the Umpire shall call and signal, “Wide Ball” as soon as the ball is dead. A ball passing between the batsman and the leg stump shall not be deemed a wide ball.
- g. Leg umpire appointed by batting team cannot call “No ball” on field restriction faults. When fielding team violates the field restriction in presence of the Leg umpire appointed by batting team. In this case, Leg umpire must stop the game by calling “dead ball” before the delivery of the ball. This call cannot be made after the ball was delivered.
